CAPSTONE TIME TB

BKMT 490 Undergraduate Research –Professor AJ Otjen

3 cr. Work with a client from the community to produce a branding and strategic marketing communications campaign. This course welcomes students with many talents including music, writing, graphic arts, or any major that can give input or reference to human condition and behavior. The work is almost always a service learning project and nonprofit, giving the student an opportunity to affect social change.

HONR 290/490 Internships (13 credits)

Provides an opportunity for students to engage in field experience not offered in other courses. Contains a research component to be developed in conjunction with supervising faculty member.

HONR 298/498 Independent Study (3 credits)

Provides an opportunity to receive credit for individualized or special experimental learning opportunities (including a senior thesis) at an upper division level and to count up to 3 credits towards the University Honors Program's 24-credit requirement for Honors Scholar designation.

HONR 499 Hunger and Food Security– Professor Virginia Mermel

3 cr. Builds on the food insecurity work completed by students who took this course in prior years. Students will explore and implement strategies to improve the emergency food distribution system, reduce food waste, and build a food safety net that will increase food availability to welcome people in the shelter as well as build an emergency food reserve that will benefit all Billings area residents in the long
