CRWR 240-600 Introduction to Creative Writing, 3 cr., Professor Tami Haaland
Introduces the principles and techniques of various kinds of creative writing, ranging from personal expression in simple narrative and description to basic elements of fiction and poetry.

HONR SEMINARS AND SPECIAL TOPICS COURSES

HONR 311 Advanced Perspectives and Understanding, 3 cr., Professor David Craig

Explores classic and contemporary works of literature, art, and philosophy with an emphasis on cultural and historical contexts in order to develop critical and multi-disciplinary analytical skills. For spring 2019, the course will explore ideas about what it means to live ethically from ancient times to the present. (Recommended for junior and senior students.)

HONR 494-001 People and Politics, 3 cr., Professor Ana Diaz

Examines a number of the main figures, texts, and ideas in the history of Western political thought and considers how the state is formed, what justifies it, and who should rule.

HSTA 494-001 SM: History of Punk Rock, 3 cr., Professor Joseph Bryan

Assesses Punk and Punk Rock through an historical lens. It will begin with the Vietnam War era, consequences of decolonization, and rising tensions of the Cold War, then linger on the neo-conservatism of Margaret Thatcher and Ronald Reagan, and end with the global revitalization of Punk Rock in response to the USA's neo-imperial reaction to the events of 9 September 2001.

HONR 290/490 Internships (1-3 cr.)

Provides an opportunity for students to engage in field experience not offered in other courses. Contains a research component to be developed in conjunction with supervising faculty member.

HONR 298/498 Independent Study (1-3 cr.)

Provides an opportunity to receive credit for individualized or special experimental learning opportunities (including a senior thesis) at an upper-division level and count up to 3 credits toward the University Honors Program's 21-credit requirement for Honors Scholar designation.
